—Communion services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning.
Preparatory to this occasion services will be held Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. A cordial invitation to all.

—Attention is directed to the broad-gauge ad. of the Monarch Clothing Co. on the fourth page. This enterprising firm never makes a statement which it is not ready at all times to back up with the goods.
—Why pay an agent six or seven dollars for a National Vacuum carpet cleaner when you can get one for four dollars with a year's subscription to the best paper published in Forest county thrown into the bargain.
—State College will celebrate Pennsylvania Day on the 22d inst., when Gov.
Tener and a goodly share of his cabinet will be present to take part in the program prepared for the occasion, which is always an interesting one, second only to commencement.
—J. A. Adams is enlarging his meat market by building an extension to the rear of it. Evidently Jerry hasn't heard of the fall in the high cost of living as a result of Wilson's election, and until he does hear of it the thickness of a 20 cent beefsteak will remain the same.
—The first accident of the present hunting season in Forest county occurred last Friday at Lynch, when Lawrence Sloum accidentally discharged his gun, injuring the first finger of his left hand so badly that amputation of the entire finger was necessary. The operation was performed by Dr. Mervine, of Sheffield.

—Demonstration work in the orchards of the State which have been put under supervision of the State for showing practical methods of spraying and pruning trees will begin on November 14, according to a statement made by State Zoologist H. A. Surface. Notices to this effect will be issued within a few days when the first series of demonstrations will be announced.
—Jamestown, N. Y., parties have taken a lease of what is known as the Duncan tract from the present owner, Hon. N. P.
Wheeler, and have given Lowe & Welch a contract of drilling at two wells on the same. The tract is a large one, covering several hundred acres on the east side of Tionesta creek, and drillers are rigging up to start the first well near the state bridge, two miles above Nebraskas. This will be the first effort to be made to test the territory for oil.
—Attention is directed to its splendid condition as shown in the statement of the Oil City Trust Company, published in response to the call from the Commissioner of Banking, under date of November 2. The capital and surplus of the institution exceed $24,000.00; deposits show a handsome increase over the last report, and now exceed $4,000,000, while the trust funds have grown even more rapidly and exceed $1,500,000. Such a statement speaks strongly of the financial prosperity of Oil City and vicinity.

—W. L. Wertz, one of Tionesta's expert gardeners, picked two or three quarts of fine, luscious strawberries from his vines election day, Nov. 5, 1912.
Mark it down and see if you can beat it, or even tie it.
—A few days ago some miscreant filed the strands of a barbed wire fence on to B. J. Weller's farm, near Starr postoffice letting his cattle out of the pasture, and only for a timely discovery the cattle might have caused him a considerable expense in damage to neighboring property. The deed was a cowardly one and if Ben finds out who the perpetrator is there will be something doing.
—"The Knight" is a pretty little magazine published monthly by the students of the Collingswood, N. J., high school, the October number of which has been kindly sent us by our old friend and former Forest county citizen, Geo. L. Scott, whose son Walter has written a catchy little story for the publication entitled, "Jim's Luck." The lad is a graduate of the school and seems to possess considerable talent as a fiction writer.
—About fifty invited guests gathered at the home of Miss Olive Lanson Friday evening to hear a piano recital given by pupils of Miss Lanson. A difficult program was played in a most pleasing manner and the students showed the result of careful training and practice, all receiving unstinted applause. The pupils were ably assisted in their recital by Mrs. Cora Watson Feit, who sang several beautiful selections. Light refreshments were served at the close of the program.
—Squire Dick King of Tylersburg paid a short official business visit to Tionesta yesterday morning, and found time to call on a number of old friends to felicitate with them over the election outcome, which, for the second time in his long volunteering years, resulted exactly to his taste.
The veteran Democratic war-horse expects nothing but peace and contentment for the balance of his days on earth, and knows that he shall pass on happy when his time comes. And so mote it be, Dick.

—Tidoute News: At the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning Prof. F. W.
Gill rendered a solo which placed him in a warm spot over our musical people.
—The piano recital of Miss Olive Lan-son of Tionesta, before the Mendelssohn Club last Saturday was one of the red-dier day events of the year for the club.
And the afternoon was fully rounded out by the solos of Prof. Gill and Miss Abigail Cummings.—Those who attended the Presbyterian church last Sunday were well repaid in the practical talks of Rev.
James Brennan of Warren. We say talks, as they were not the usual unadorned sermons, but practical talks in a practical way on practical Christianity.
—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McMullen left yesterday for their new home at West Hickory, to which place their household goods were shipped earlier in the week.
Mr. McMullen has a position with the Grand Union Tea Company, as driver of one of their wagons and his route lies in the vicinity of East Hickory, taking in East and West Hickory, Endeavor, Tio-nosta, Kellettville, and surrounding towns. We are decidedly sorry to lose these good friends from our village life, in which they have been active for the past year, during which Mr. McMullen was employed as clerk in the W. M.
Goucher store. A regulation good fellow, "Sam" has made many friends in this community, while Mrs. McMullen leaves a wide circle of friends who have come to know and appreciate her many good qualities during the time of the McMullens' residence here. Good luck be with them!—Seneca Kicker.

In His One-hundredth Year.
Samuel McKee, father of Mrs. J. W.
Caldin, celebrated his 99th birthday last Saturday. As a specimen of a well preserved man, active far beyond the years of the average man of seventy, he certainly is a wonder. And this notwithstanding the fact that in September, 1911, he met with an accident that broke a hip, confining him in hospital 109 days. Today he steps off with almost the tread of a trained soldier. Mr. McKee was born in County Down, Ireland, Nov. 2, 1813.
In 1847 he came to America, settling near Meadville, but for the last 25 years he has lived near Tionesta on his farm. He married three times, and is the father of eighteen children, eleven surviving as follows: D. R. McKee, Elwood, Ind.; H. G.
McKee, Susquehanna, Pa.; Mrs. G. W.
Loesch, Los Angeles, Cal.; S. L. McKee, Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. James Raiston, Nailsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Wollstone, S'one-han, Pa.; W. J. McKee, Tionesta, Pa.; F.
D. McKee, Stewart Run, Pa.; J. E. Mc-Kee, Bradford, Pa.; Mrs. Kate Wheeler, Titusville, Pa.; Mrs. J. W. Caldin, Tiodoute.

Mr. McKee spends some time these days with Mrs. Caldin, and those who meet him are surprised at his keen, clear mind and intellect. And may he round out the century mark, and then some.—

Two Total Fire Losses.
The dwelling house of George Childs located near the forks of the road at Peters run just outside the borough limits, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon of last week, and only the household goods on the lower story were saved. Mr. Childs' five-year-old daughter, Dorothy, while playing with matches up stairs, set fire to a curtain and almost at once the whole of the upper story was enveloped in flames. In rescuing the child the father was considerably burned about the face and hands, and the child narrowly escaped being badly burned.
There was no insurance on the property, and Mr. Childs' loss, amounting to several hundred dollars, is a total one.
Monday morning about 7 o'clock Thomas P. Flynn, residing near Golinza, discovered smoke issuing from the roof of his house and rushing to the second story found one room all ablaze. By the most persistent efforts he succeeded in controlling the flames, but not until the bed and all the contents of the room were ruined, and the fire had eaten through the floor and into one of the walls. A man named Carson had occupied the bed during the night and rising before daylight had struck a match to light a lamp.
It is supposed the match set fire to the bed-clothing. Mr. Flynn was well nigh exhausted before he succeeded in extinguishing the fire, having inhaled so much smoke. There was no insurance on the building.

Recent Deaths.
M'CREA.
Mary G. Weiss was born at Bald Eagle, Centre county, Pa., Feb. 13, 1826, and died at her home at Eagle Rock, Pa., Saturday, Nov. 9, 1912. She made her home in her youth with Rev. Ralph Clapp, one of the pioneer Methodist preachers of Erie Conference. In the spring of 1844 she was married to Michael McCrea. Mrs. Mc-Crea was a woman who was very devoted to her family, of a kindly disposition and cheerful temperament. She was the mother of ten children, seven of whom survive her: E. M. McCrea, Misses Eliza and Hulda McCrea, Dewitt W., Peter L., and Frank J. McCrea, of Eagle Rock, and John H. McCrea, of Ten Mile Bottom. The funeral was held from her late residence Monday afternoon at 3:30 and was conducted by Rev. W. S. Burton, of Tionesta. A large company of friends were present from Oil City, Titusville and West Hickory. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The remains were laid at rest in the little family cemetery at Eagle Rock.

WILLIAMS.
Mary, daughter of James and Christina Gray, was born in Tennessee in 1838.
When but a child her parents came to Pennsylvania, in which state she spent the remainder of her life. At the age of fourteen she united with the M. E. church at Greenwood, being a faithful member until she moved to Clarington, when she united with the Presbyterian church at Tabor, of which she was a diligent worker for many years or until she went to reside near Kane, when her membership was transferred to the Presbyterian church there, remaining a member until her death, Nov. 1, 1912. In 1891 she was united in marriage with Frank L. Williams, of Clarington. To this union nine children were born, two of whom preceded her to the grave; also her father, three brothers and sisters. She is survived by her husband, her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Elmer Heasley and Mrs. F. A. Heasley, of Clarington, one brother, William Gray, of Pittsburg, and seven children, Leslie, Leland, Harry, Arthur, Frank, Paul and Christina, and a host of loving friends.

DALE.
With feelings of profound sorrow we chronicle the death of Tionesta's oldest resident, Mrs. Nancy Dale, widow of the late Joseph G. Dale, who was born on Holeman's Flats, September 14, 1822, and died Friday, November 5, 1912, at about 1:35 p. m., after a very brief illness from an attack of la grippe. This section of country at her birth was a vast wilderness, with but few settlers. She witnessed all the wonderful transitions that have occurred in this neighborhood in the last ninety years. The lone paths of the hostile red man are now magnificent public highways, the cabin of the trapper in the unbroken forests are now fertile farms with modern homes and improvements. She possessed a strong mentality and a wonderfully retentive memory.
She was well acquainted with all the facts of local history and with all the questions that concern the early settlement and development of this part of Western Pennsylvania. She likewise possessed a kind and sympathetic nature, and her ears and hands were ever open to the cries and needs of the poor, the unfortunate, the sick or distressed. During the greater part of her long life she has been an honored and active member of the Presbyterian church in this place, and was a participant in all the struggles incident to the organization, growth and development of a pioneer church. The faith that sustained her in life did not desert her in the crucial hour of death, and on the full expectation and assurance of a happy immortality and endless reunion with those who had preceded her into the Father's kingdom.
"There saints of all ages in harmony meet, While anthems of rapture unceasingly roll,
And the joy of the Lord is the feast of the soul."
In her life and death was verified indeed the promise of God, "Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like a shock of corn fully ripe."

The deceased was a daughter of Alexander and Clarissa (Sexton) Holeman, and was one of nine children born to this venerated couple. Mrs. Dale was of a prominent family on both sides of her lineage, being descended from Eli Hole-man, a pioneer of the Allegheny valley, who established early in the last century a ferry across the river at that place, known far and wide as the "Holeman Ferry," over which the sturdy yeomanry crossed to seek homes in this land, and on her maternal grandmother's side from Alexander McGraw, an early pioneer of the Buffalo valley, now Center and Union counties, Pennsylvania, mentioned as a prominent pioneer by J. Blair Linn in his history of the Buffalo valley, as a great man in his day, and an extensive property owner, who helped to push back the line of civilization and progress toward the west. She was a member of Tidoute Chapter, No. 522, Daughters of the American Revolution, her paternal grandfather, Eli Holeman, having joined the American army in the war of the Revolution to protect this country from British invasion. Our older citizens will not forget the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dale, which was observed by them at their home here December 24, 1890, very many relatives and old friends from far and near being in attendance. Mrs. Dale also enjoyed the distinction of being the oldest member of a family of five generations. On December 24, 1890, she was united in holy wedlock with Joseph G. Dale, of honored memory. For more than three score years they walked side by side, mutually sharing the burdens of early pioneer life. He joined the "majority" August 16, 1898. Hers had indeed been a remarkable career. For full 72 years she presided over her household, enjoying the love and good will of all whose pleasure it was to know her. She was the mother of 6 children, 4 of whom survive: A. H.
Dale of Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Jennie C.
Partridge of Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Belle M. Dewees, and J. T. Dale, at home. One brother, Richard Holeman of Mill Village, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. Mary Maze of Clarington, Pa., also survive her.

The funeral was held from her late home yesterday afternoon, her pastor, Rev. H. A. Bailey, assisted by Rev. W.
S. Burton, conducting the services. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Wilson.
Mrs. Man Weaver, who has been picking grapes near Westfield, returned home Wednesday.
As there is to be a vacancy in the postoffice and so far there seems to be no outlook for an applicant for the position, we are hoping for rural delivery.
Miss Olive Vandenberg is on the sick list.

The Pennsylvania Lumber Company is building a large lumber camp in the woods near here. H. C. Johnson has the building contract.

Thanksgiving Day.
President Taft has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:
"A God-fearing nation, like ours, owes it to its unborn and sincere sense of moral duty to testify its devout gratitude to the All-Giver for the countless benefits it has enjoyed. For many years it has been customary at the close of the year for the National Executive to call upon his fellow countrymen to offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings vouchsafed to them in the past and to unite in earnest supplication for their continuance."
"The year now drawing to a close has been notably favorable to our fortunate land. At peace within and without, free from the perturbations and calamities that have afflicted other peoples, rich in harvest so abundant and in industries so productive that the overflow of our prosperity has advantaged the whole world; strong in the steadfast conservation of the heritage of self government bequeathed to us by the wisdom of our fathers and firm in the resolve to transmit that heritage unimpaired but rather improved by good use, to our children and our children's children for all time to come, the people of this country have abounding cause for contented gratitude."
"Wherefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of long established usage and in response to the wish of the American people, invite my countrymen, who-soever they may sojourn in join, on Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of this month of November, in appropriate ascription of praise and thanks to God for the good gifts that have been our portion, and in humble prayer that His great mercies toward us may endure."
